Sewer Plan Exception Key To Office Park Development

A Roaring Hussey's

Heavy rains of the past week turned the normally placid Hussey's pond into a roaring waterway Monday as it poured over the dam and embankment onto Poore street and into Shawsheen Square, filling catch basins and causing some minor inconveniences to the neighborhood and traffic.

By Sue Aucella Deacon

A Burlington developer has proposed a 53-acre "high-quality" office park for the Lowell Junction area that he hopes to make "a showpiece" — and he will ask the selectmen to grant him an exception to Andover's master sewer plan to sewer the development.

Richard Kelly of the R.J. Kelly Company hopes to build a research and development office park near the Route 125 exit off Route 93, just south of the Gillette plant. Access to the site would be from Ballardvale Road in Wilmington; part of the site is located in Wilmington and part in Tewksbury, although two-thirds of the site is in Andover.

Kelly appeared before the selectmen Monday night, along with his attorney and an engineer, to describe his plans for "Corporate Place 93." Atty. Reginald Marden of Andover said Kelly will return before the board next month to formally request an exception to the town's master sewer plan.

Kelly has also filed definitive subdivision plans with the Planning Board and a notice of intent with the Conservation Commission, since the site includes wetlands.

According to engineer Robert Brustlin of Vanesse Hangen Associates of Boston, the parcel is "not an easy site. It's a nice piece of property, but there are a number of constraints."

Brustlin said the developer would like to build a total of 400,000 square feet on the site, with one-half to two-thirds of that square footage falling in Andover. Specific plans have not yet been drawn, but he said the development would include two-story, 60,000-square foot buildings with brick exteriors. The "high-quality" site will feature landscaping, parking areas and roadways

Catrin Mengis

Seek Host For AFS Student

Catrin Mengis is a 17-year-old AFS student from Visp, Switzerland, eagerly anticipating a year in the United States who hopes some family will open their home to her.

Catrin describes herself as very family-oriented, yet also likes time to herself. She can be on the quiet side at times, but has a sense of humor and enjoys many cultural interests. Catrin is very musically inclined and plays the violin and participates in musical groups. Her other interests are skiing, hiking, knitting and reading. Through AFS she hopes to find a family with whom she can share her interests and also gain an insight into life outside her small Swiss town.

For more information on hosting Catrin and other foreign students, contact Marcia Johnson, 27 Summer St., host family chairman.

Recycling Date Set

The need for a town aluminum drive has not been eliminated with the implementation of the Massachusetts Bottle Law, although the accumulation most people will have of no-deposit beverage containers will be much smaller. Heavier aluminum storm windows and doors, siding, gutters and kitchenware continue to be in demand and may be brought to Draper Hall, Abbot Academy, School Street, Andover, on Saturday, May 14, from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. during Andover Recycling's Giant Recycling Sale-A-Bratton.

Foil and frozen dinner trays will not be accepted.

Bradlee Renovation Praised

Selectman Norma Gammon had praise for the renovated Bradlee School Monday night, since the long-abandoned Ballardvale school has been converted into pricey condominiums.

Developer Francis P. Reilly did "an absolutely first-class job" on the project after buying the school from the town two years ago, Gammon said. While the school's historic exterior has been preserved, the inside has been renovated into 11 "beautiful" units, and the amenities include garages and an elevator. Gammon added that the two units on the third floor (once an attic) offer a panoramic view of Andover.

Five of the units have already been sold, the selectman said, including one on the third floor. The two top-floor units are offered at $129,000 each, according to Gammon, while the rest of the units are priced at $78,000 to $83,000.

Making condos out of the Bradlee School not only gives new life to a building that once seemed doomed to destruction, the board noted — but will also generate $600,000 to $700,000 in property taxes for the town.

Future Use Of Shawsheen School To Be Addressed

With school administration offices set to move into the old East Junior High wings next year (along with all town offices), some organizations are already interested in using the Shawsheen School building, which now houses school offices.

School Committee Chairman Richard Neal said Tuesday night he has been contacted by four "education-related groups" interested in using the school building. He suggested that representatives of all four groups appear at the committee's first meeting in May to explain their proposals.

Committeeman Donald Robb pointed out that under current law, ownership of the building will revert to the town as soon as it is no longer used as a school. He suggested inviting the Board of Selectmen to the meeting, and Neal agreed.

However, Michael Giammusso noted that that law may soon change. He said a move is underway to allow school departments to maintain ownership of old schools for up to ten years, renting the buildings and putting the earnings into a special fund.

Utility Permits Granted

During a regular meeting at Town Hall Monday night, the Board of Selectmen approved permits for the gas company, and for water main installations.

Bay State Gas Company was granted permission to excavate to repair gas mains at 69 Cross St., on Webster Street, 125 River Road, and River Road at Minuteman Road. The company was also given permission, retroactively, for excavations done during March for emergency repairs on Salem at Prospect street, 26 High St., South Main at Orchard, and 57 Highland St.

Acting as water commissioners, the board approved requests to install 300 feet of eight-inch water main along Salem Street east from an existing main from the property of C.W. Diadamo, to the intersection of Seten Circle and Salem Road; 600 feet of eight-inch main along Gray Road north to the intersection of Harper and Gray; and 860 feet of eight-inch main along River Road southwesterly from an existing main at the Buker property to Lot One of the new Raven's Bluff subdivision.

Sunday Road Race Approved

The Andover Striders Athletic Club has the selectmen's permission to run a road race and fun run through Andover on Sunday.

The board Monday night approved the Striders' request to hold a five-mile race and a two-mile fun run in town on Sunday, April 17. The board stipulated that arrangements must be cleared with the Police Department to ensure that the route is reviewed and safety precautions are taken.

To Present 'Pinocchio'

The Andover Education Association will bring The Children's Hour Touring Players to Andover on April 23 at 1:30 p.m. at West Junior High to present "Pinocchio." Advance ticket sales will take place in all schools this week. Flyers have been sent home with all elementary students.

Last year the AEA was able to award two scholarships of $500 to deserving Andover High School students. Proceeds from this production will benefit the scholarship fund.

Over the past 13 seasons, The Children's Hour, a professional company of adult actors specializing in dramatizing children's classics, has presented more than 1,000 performances for the children of New England. Following the performance, the children will meet and talk with the actors.

Receiving Hours Set For Sale

Mrs. James Beattie of Andover Recycling, Inc. announced that items for the Giant Recycling Sale-A-Bration will be taken every Saturday from April 16 through May 7 from 10 a.m. to 12 noon at Draper Hall, the site of the May 14 sale. Evening receiving hours will be announced soon.

A fascinating collection of goods is already growing, including sofas, tv stands, chairs, dishes, swimming pool cleaning equipment, an encyclopedia set, toys and, perhaps most unusual, hundreds of handsome new jewelry gift boxes.

People holding garage sales can clear out what's left over, often just minutes after their sale ends, by calling Mrs. Beattie, Mrs. Paul Hollenbeck or other numbers on the recycling calendar to arrange pickups. Even residents of surrounding towns donate sale goods every year. A Bradford woman, a satisfied patron of last year's sale, has already given assorted pieces of furniture for May 14.

Recital

A guest chamber music recital, formerly scheduled for Friday evening, will be held Saturday, April 16, at Graves Hall on the Phillips Academy campus at 8 p.m. John Lindsay, violin, Rodney Farrar, cello, Albert Schaberg, horn, and Rebecca Broadbent, piano, from New York University at Pottsdam, will perform.

To Observe Library Week

Memorial Hall Library will host an "Open House" with special displays of new books and the art work of David Sullivan during National Library Week. Tours will be offered every day from Tuesday, April 19, through Sunday, April 24, at 10 a.m. and 3 p.m. and Wednesday, April 20, at 7:30 p.m. Here is an opportunity to discover some "library secrets," i.e., book selection and processing procedures, little-known historical anecdotes, capabilities of the new computer and a chance to peek at the library expansion plans.

If you haven't used your library recently, you are missing one of the greatest assets and bargains in Andover. In just about every Horatio Alger story, the library invariably comes to the fore as a primary source of information, inspiration and encouragement for the persons who dared to dream a dream. In a recent interview, Sylvester Stallone told how he spent days on end at the library just reading, then reading some more, what he learned about the world, other people's personal achievements, helped him gain the confidence in himself to "go for it" in writing and acting in the now immortal "Rocky."

Writer Jack London had little formal education, but he checked out two books from the library every week. Even G. Gordon Liddy, a modern-day character of dubious notoriety, used the library extensively in gathering information. Jean Auel, whose recent amazing success as a novice writer has earned her a place in publishing history, started her research at the library.

Drop by Memorial Hall Library to celebrate National Library Week, April 19-27.

Job Fair

The spring job fair will be held at Northern Essex Community College Wednesday, April 20, from 9:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. in the College Center. About 35 employers, ranging from high-tech firms to hospitals and the military, are expected to take part.

The focus of the job fair will be career placements and summer jobs. The event is open to the public.

Vacation Specials At Library

Susan Fleming

In celebration of National Library Week, the Children's Room of Memorial Hall Library has invited Susan Fleming to speak on Tuesday, April 19, at 2 p.m. Author of three books for readers ages 8-11, Mrs. Fleming writes warmly and humorously of family life in a small town. A former elementary school teacher, she is the mother of two and a resident of Needham. Mrs. Fleming will tell how she happened to write "The Pig at 37 Pinecrest Drive," a comically touching story about a family whose pet pig learns to play baseball. Children in grades 2-5 especially will enjoy the opportunity to meet the author behind the book. Refreshments will be served.

The Children's Room will present Walt Disney's film, "The Littlest Horse Thieves," in which three youngsters make a daring attempt to rescue a herd of doomed pit ponies from an English coal mine, on Wednesday, April 20, at 2 p.m. Free tickets for 7-12 year olds will be available the day of the show at 1:30 p.m.

St. Robert's To Present Musical

St. Robert Bellarmine Parish of West Andover will present a musical, "Dudes & Feuds," on Friday, April 29, and Saturday, April 30, at the Christian Formation Center, River Road, West Andover. Tickets are available by calling the rectory.

The show will start at 7:30 p.m. and will be followed by an "after-the-show" party on Saturday only. The party will include D.J., snacks and cash bar.

Interest Shown In Waste Cleanup Day

Probably because every newspaper and news broadcast on television these days includes some mention of hazardous waste and the problems it can cause, there has been a solid response to the first announcements about Andover's Hazardous Waste Clean-Up Day on Saturday, May 7, with proof of residency, Andoverites may dispose of up to two gallons of liquid or two pounds of solids free of charge. A user fee of 42 per gallon will be charged for amounts over the limit.

Some of the hazardous wastes, in labeled containers, that may be collected are banned pesticides such as Silvex, Mirex, Aldrin, Chlordane and DDT; caustics such as oven cleaner; petroleum distillates and flammable substances, such as paint thinners, lacquers, turpentine, oil-base paints; and swimming pool, photographic chemicals, outdated medicines and many others.

The collection will be at the parking of West Junior High from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. An information folder on this project, which is being planned by the Andover Hazardous Waste Task Force headed by Everett F. Penney, assisted by the Andover League of Women Voters and Andover Recycling, Inc., is available at the town clerk's or treasurer's offices in Town Hall. Further questions may be directed to Everett Penney at the health board or Mrs. Richard Bakulski or Mrs. Paul Hollenbeck.

Two Plays Opening From A Youthful Love Of Theatre

By Sue Aucella Deacon

She learned to love the theatre as a little girl, the daughter of Eastern European immigrants, when her parents took her to the Yiddish theatre on New York City's lower East Side.

"It was very melodramatic, very schmaltzy," Carole Braverman recalls, waving her arms to illustrate. "I never understood what was going on — it was all in Yiddish — but I just reacted to the flamboyance onstage. It gave me an abiding love for the theatre."

But she never imagined herself writing a play until some 15 years ago, when she almost accidentally "discovered a gift."

This spring, the Phillips Academy English instructor will see two of her plays performed, one in New York City and one in Charlestown — and although they are of course in English, in some ways they echo that fondly-remembered Yiddish theatre.

"I like to think of my style as Elizabethan — flamboyant and passionate, with lots of characters and a great love of language," Carole explains. "I like to err on the side of generosity, overabundance. Sometimes I do overwrite," she admits, "but I like to think one can correct from excess, rather than from scarcity."

She is enthusiastic and engaging, with a warm smile and perhaps a little of her characters' flamboyance and passion. (And even though she is many years removed from her native Brooklyn, "it lives in my voice.") She has taught at the academy for four years, and lives on campus with her 15-year-old son — "on Main Street," she points out, grinning. "When I was a kid in Brooklyn, only characters in books lived on Main Street."

Carole's newest play, In Tiber Melting, will open today and run through May 1 at the West End Theatre in New York City. It is a showcase production, she explains, staged on a tight budget with the hope that it will attract enough attention — and financial backing — to support a further production.

The Margaret Ghost will premiere June 16 and run through July 2 at the Charlestown Working Theatre on Bunker Hill Road, Charlestown. That play will be produced in Berkeley, Calif. next spring, but because it tells the story of Margaret Fuller, a nineteenth-century author born in Cambridge, Carole wanted it to premiere here, "where she was born and lived."

In Tiber Melting began in the playwright's mind five years ago as the story of an unhappily married woman sifting through old letters from her courtship. As she looks back on her own past, she learns about the past of a woman she has never met — a woman dead 100 years — when she finds an old diary in a junk shop.

"I am fascinated by the shared story, the shared human drama," Carole says, which is explored as her character begins to understand "the counterpoint between the dead woman's life and her own. The healing power of sharing human drama is what theatre is all about."

The title ("nobody knows what it means") comes from a line in Shakespeare's Antony and Cleopatra: When Antony is urged to leave Cleopatra's side and return to a Rome in crisis, he replies, "Let Rome in Tiber melt." He would let his great city melt into the river because he is "caught up in that passion where the world doesn't matter," Carole says. "But of course it does matter."

The Margaret Ghost also had "a long gestation," the playwright says. While "briefly" studying in a doctorate program at Berkeley, she came across a reference to Margaret Fuller as "the Margaret ghost" in Henry James' biography of Nathaniel Hawthorne.

"I had never heard of her," she remembers. "And it was such a provocative phrase that it sent me into the archives at Berkeley."

Fuller was, she learned, born in Cambridge in 1810, "a wonderful, funny, passionate woman. She was brilliant, plain, eloquent. And she was caught in a world where to be all those things — to be so different and a female — was probably not a good idea," she says, laughing. "It was a world that had no place for her."

"She was so magnificent. One of our really great women. And her story wasn't being told. I needed to tell the story as I saw it. She haunted me — and she haunts people who see the play."

That need to tell a story, "the human impulse to share, is at the heart of why I write," Carole says.

Despite her love for theatre and for poetry, "I never saw myself as a writer." It was a hidden gift she discovered only after her son was born, when she was "at home, feeling isolated, with so many unanswered questions." She began to write stories as a way "of sharing this intense inner life — and then I guess I noticed that they weren't bad."

Except for one published story, she has focused her energies on writing plays. Her first attempt was so "dreadful" that she has never shown it to anyone: "I think of it as a real apprentice piece."

Her first play to be produced was The Girl With A Sense of Fair Play, staged at the American Conservatory Theatre in San Francisco in 1974. Set during the 1972 presidential election, the play's main character campaigns for McGovern — and becomes increasingly aware of the contrast between her own "comfortable, suburban, middle-class life, and all the terrible suffering in Vietnam that we were constantly aware of. The play explores the pull between our own lives, the selfishness, and the compassion that we feel."

Although the McGovern campaigner is the play's "essential character," she is upstaged by her mother, "a Jewish mother, an overwhelming, vibrant, funny character who sort of takes the play away from her," Carole says ruefully.

To create such vivid characters, "a dramatist really has to be alive to the world," she says, "to the way people talk, the way they move. I try to render a character authentically, and sometimes heighten it. My plays are not really slice-of-life drama. I take the moment and heighten it. My characters say the things we would have said if we had the time, and with more grace and flair."

The playwright needs actors, a director and scenery to bring her work to life, Carole points out. "More than any other writer, a playwright really shares the creative process. A poem exists on the page, but a play doesn't fully exist on the page — it's not theatre. A script is not theatre."

And there is "something magical" about seeing her work come to life onstage, she says. "It's wonderful — and it's a mixed feeling. Sometimes, at its best, an actor brings a creative energy that gives you insight. But sometimes there are moments when I feel I would love to be directing my own play. Occasionally, particularly in its rough stages, it doesn't seem like it's ever going to come together — but hopefully, it does."

Unhappily, the great expense of staging a play ("an off-Broadway limited run now costs at least half a million to produce") makes it "very difficult" to translate a play from script to stage. "The economics of the theatre are impossible," Carole says. "It really militates against new work being produced — it's very difficult to raise money."

And she has little hope for theatre's future — at least not "until theatre is seen as an essential part of our spiritual wealth that the community supports, like libraries and museums. Nobody expects a library or a museum to make money."

The ancient Greeks subsidized their theatre so that "nobody was too poor to get a theatre ticket," she points out, and all could watch a drama unfold, holding hands in a human circle around the stage.

"That's being lost," Carole says sadly. "I have friends who feel film has supplanted theatre. But with film, you don't have the living actor and the audience — you don't have the holding of the hands around the human drama."

With three plays that have been produced to her credit, "it will never be said of Carole Braverman that she was a prolific writer," the playwright says, smiling. "She had her moments!"

"I write in fits and starts," she explains. "I can't really say how long it takes me to write a play, from the beginning scenes to the whole play and revisions, because sometimes I let something lie fallow and go to something else."

"The truth is, I'm a very indolent writer," she confesses. "I'm absolutely the worst procrastinator of them all. I have a joy in having done it — but the doing of it I hate, particularly getting started."

But she has started a new play: It is about three women, "and one of them becomes broken by her sense of the suffering of this world and our indifference to it." The work is now "scattered and in pieces," except for a string of possible titles. ("I love titles — I can come up with 20 titles before I've written a word of a play.") Her current favorite: Medusa's Mirror. "I don't know what it means, but it appeals to me."

Carole has vowed to take a more disciplined approach to writing — even persuading a student to knock on her door at six each morning, waking her so she'll have time to write before her eight o'clock class. (So far, she's gone back to sleep more often than not.)

"There's something mysterious that goes on in writing, in making stories," she believes. "But there are also things you can control — like getting up at six o'clock and sitting at your desk. It's a combination of discipline and that mysterious element. I wish I understood it more — maybe I write more."

She will write more, and she will continue to teach. "I take my life one year at a time," Carole Braverman says. "But don't see any enormous changes ahead. I continue writing. Teaching and writing are procrastinating."

The BayBanks now offer three loan programs designed to make it easier for students and their parents to meet the rising costs of higher education.

Higher Education Loan Program (HELP)

This loan provides undergraduates enrolled in an approved degree program with funds up to $2,500 per year. Or up to $5,000 per year for graduate students. And repayment doesn't begin until after graduation.

Parental Loans to Undergraduate Students (PLUS)

For further assistance, parents of undergraduate students can apply for a PLUS loan and receive an additional $1,000 to $3,000 per year per child. And eligibility is based on your credit history rather than financial need.

Health Education Assistance Loans (HEAL)

For students pursuing certain degrees in the health care field, a HEAL loan can provide as much as $20,000 per year up to a total of $80,000 towards the cost of the education. Repayment doesn't begin until after graduation. And like our HELP and PLUS loans, total financial aid must not exceed the cost of education.

For more information regarding the BayBanks HELP, PLUS, and HEAL loans, visit your nearest office of the BayBanks or call the BayBank Hotline toll free at 1-800-342-8888. With scholarships at a premium, it might be one of the smartest moves you could make.

Named Vice President Of Company

Richard J. Santagati

Richard J. Santagati of Andover, a New England Telephone marketing executive, has been named a vice president of the new northeast regional company to be formed in 1984 when N.E.T. and New York Telephone are divested from AT&T.

Santagati, recently elected an officer and a vice president of New England Telephone by the board of directors, has been an assistant vice president for marketing of the telephone company for the past several years.

Santagati is responsible for the regional company's marketing operations in New York State and the five New England States served by New England Telephone.

Under the AT&T divestiture plan, the 22 local Bell operating telephone companies will be grouped into seven separate regions throughout the country.

Santagati began his Bell System career in 1965 as a supervisory assistant in the operator services department of New England Telephone after graduating from Merrimack College.

He was assigned to the American Telephone and Telegraph Corporate Staff in New York in 1974, returning to New England Telephone in 1976 as a general plant supervisor.

Santagati was awarded a Sloan fellowship at Massachusetts Institute of Technology in 1978, where he received a master's degree in business administration. He was elected to the Board of Governors of the Society of Sloan Fellows.

He is a lecturer in management at Merrimack College School of Continuing Education.

Santagati and his wife, the former Marilyn Murphy, have three children: Karen, Susan and Ricky.

Pianist In Concert At College

Russell Sherman, world-renowned pianist, will be featured in a concert Sunday, April 17, at 3 p.m. in the Collegiate Church of Christ the Teacher at Merrimack College in North Andover.

Sherman will perform with the Indian Hill Chamber Orchestra.

The Indian Hill Chamber Orchestra, conducted by Paul Gay, was established in 1975. Merrimack College physics professor Benjamin Cogen is a member of the orchestra.

Tickets may be purchased at the door or by calling the college.

Road Race

The first annual Home Run in the North Shore/Merrimack Valley Area (Region III), a six-mile measured-course run to benefit foster children and promote public interest in foster parenting, will take place Sunday morning, May 1, in Newburyport.

"We chose a road race for positive reasons," said George A. Cashman, area director of the Haverhill/Newburyport Department of Social Services. "Runners take care of themselves and their bodies, and they care about recreation and outdoor family fun. We are encouraging foster parents and children, social workers and everyone who likes a well-planned run to participate."

To Give Sermon At Chapel

Margaret P. Cronin, executive director of L.I.F.E. (Living Is For the Elderly) will deliver the sermon on Sunday, April 24, at Kemper Chapel, Phillips Academy, Andover.

The Rev. Philip Zaeder has asked her to speak on the work of the L.I.F.E. program which operates through Greater Boston as the primary organization working to improve the lives of nursing home residents.

Mrs. Cronin is also expected to reveal some plans for the new Andover LIFE program which will be L.I.F.E.'s first ecumenical, inter-generational community program. It will involve townspeople of all ages and backgrounds working to help those living in nursing homes to retain control over their lives by helping them to assert themselves and by involving them in community-based activities.

Andover LIFE hopes to be funded entirely by private sources within the local community. Several organizational meetings have been held with representatives from local churches and synagogue.

Mrs. Cronin will supervise the organization and establishment of the Andover program and provide linkage to the overall L.I.F.E. organization. Andover LIFE will benefit from the 11 years of experience in providing cost-effective, positive results which has been the accomplishment and trademark of the L.I.F.E. organization.

Mrs. Cronin resides in Andover with her husband, Atty. John P. Cronin.

Participate In Chartering New Church

The Ballard Vale United Church will join with other United Methodist Churches of the Central District of the Southern New England Annual Conference in a special service of worship at St. Paul's United Methodist Church, Lowell, this Sunday afternoon at 4 p.m. The purpose of this event is the chartering of a new church, La Iglesia Metodista Unida del Buen Pastor, in Lowell. Bishop George Bashore will charter the new church and be the preacher for the service. The Ballard Vale Church is a member of the Lowell Area United Methodist Ministries which provides support for this Hispanic church. The Rev. Gary S. Cornell, pastor of the Ballard Vale Church, will be the liturgist for the service.

At the 10:30 a.m. Eastertide Service on Sunday Mr. Cornell will preach on "The Last Breakfast." New members will be received into the fellowship of the church. The children will continue their Easter to Pentecost church school theme at 10:30 a.m. with classes for youth and adults at 9:30 a.m.

Organist To Present Recital

Earl L. Miller will be the featured organ recitalist Sunday, April 17, at 4 p.m. at the Free Christian Church, 31 Elm St., Andover. His concert is open to the public. There will be a free will offering.

Miller, a well known recitalist in the New England states, recently moved to this area to be the musical director of Christ Church—Episcopal in Andover and chapel musician for the Brooks School in North Andover.

For the past 15 years he has presented a series of summer concerts throughout New England and has been heard in recitals through most of the eastern and midwestern states. He has played a series of concerts in Canada, England, Germany and Switzerland.

Miller has become known as a collector and interpreter of music from the Victorian-Edwardian period (the turn of the century) and his concerts always include a sampling of this literature. It was during this period that the organ recital reached a high point as public music entertainment in this country.

Miller has chosen a cross section of organ works for his concert, many of which may be unfamiliar to most audiences; a set of Renaissance dances, a suite by the 18th century Parisian composer Du Mage, a tune featuring the great trumpets of the Free Christian Church's Casavant/Beaudry pipe organ by a turn of the century English composer and a large group of Victorian works.

Of the transcriptions he has chosen the lyrical Vocalese of Rachmaninoff and the Pomp and Circumstance March of Elgar.

The organ of the Free Christian Church is one of the most versatile instruments in the Andover area and the fine acoustics of the church makes an excellent setting for organ music.

'Godspell'

The On-Stagers, the Merrimack College theatre group, will present "Godspell" April 21, 22, 23, 24 and 29 at 8:30 p.m. and April 30 and May 1 at 2 p.m. in the college's church auditorium.

Tickets may be purchased at the door or in advance at the college's McQuade Library.

Church To Present 'God's Prison Gang'

"God's Prison Gang," a dramatic motion picture documentary featuring four of the most notorious criminals in our nation's history who have become Christians, will be shown at the Andover Baptist Church Sunday, April 17, at 6:30 p.m.

In the 44-minute film, George Meyer, Al Capone's favorite get-away driver, Floyd Hamilton, (Public Enemy No. 1) the last of the Bonnie and Clyde gang, Jerry Graham, the "robber king" of California, and Ted Jefferson, convicted of crimes from drugs and robbery to murder, tell how they turned from crime to Christ through the ministry of concerned Christians and share their discovery of the difference Christ makes behind bars.

The film, produced by The International Prison Ministry Association, was shot behind the walls of New York's Attica prison. It is hosted by Art Linkletter, who gives a personal testimony that will touch every viewer, and features Chaplain Ray Hoekstra, whose International Prison Ministry has changed the lives of thousands of inmates over the past 18 years.

"God's Prison Gang" tells how the work of the International Prison Ministry is accomplishing what more guards, higher prison walls and greater financial expenditures have failed to do—keep released inmates from returning to lives of crime.

The Rev. Dr. Reginald MacDonald, pastor of the Andover Baptist Church, has expressed the hope that everyone concerned with the problem of rising crime will attend the free screening of this film.

Multi-Family Zoning Out; Gravel Removal Laws Approved

Asked to consider amending Andover's zoning bylaws, Town Meeting last week said yes to new gravel removal laws and laws governing non-conforming use, but no to a change in multi-family zoning and a repeal of parking credits for downtown businesses.

Voters approved Article 48 with a standing vote of 507 to 9, modifying the gravel removal bylaw to control movement of earth material within a subdivision site as well as removal from a site. The new amendment will give the Planning Board authority to grant a special permit governing gravel removal.

The meeting also approved an amendment to the article, printed in the warrant as Article 49, that would further require developers to show that their subdivision plans make the best feasible use of existing topography.

Stephen Cotton of Foster's Pond, one of the originators of the gravel removal bylaw approved by town meeting three years ago, said that law left "a loophole": developers could still remove "massive amounts" of gravel from residential neighborhoods in what amounted to gravel mining operations, "if they promise to put a subdivision on the gravel pit when they're done."

Cotton said the Andover Country Club development and Olympic Village are two examples of excessive gravel removal in Andover, and said his amendment would give the Planning Board "a more effective tool to limit the kind of earth removal that is going on."

Stephen Flashenburg of Launching Road said the amendment could be considered illegal by the Attorney General — and if it were thrown out, the whole of Article 48 would be thrown out as well.

But Planning Board Chairman Jerry Greer said his board supported the amendment to its Article 48, and town meeting voted to accept the amendment as part of that article.

Monday night, the voters approved Article 19 by a vote of 516 to 9. That article will amend the zoning laws to allow structures with nonconforming use (that is, buildings located in zones not intended for such use) to expand to any size with a special permit from the Zoning Board of Appeals.

The law previously required a variance — harder to obtain than a special permit — for expansion of more than 10 percent. The planners supported the article, Margaret Bradshaw said, because the 10 percent cap on expansion was "an arbitrary limit."

Articles 46 and 47 failed to win town meeting support Tuesday night. Article 46 would have allowed multi-family use in the Single Residence C zone with a special permit from the Zoning Board, rather than a variance as currently required.

Selectman Norma Gammon said the selectmen recommended approval because it would allow the Sullivan family to continue restoring and living in the historic Shattuck Farm buildings, which the Sullivans have moved onto their High Plain Road property.

But Planning Board Chairman Jerry Greer said he would rather wait until the town's master plan has been updated, a process now underway, so the full implications of the proposed change could be reviewed.

Bradshaw added that most houses in the SRC zone are not sewered — and if large old houses were converted to multi-family use, septic failures could prove disastrous. The article was defeated on a 402-31 vote.

Article 47 was defeated on a 288-141 vote, after some confusion about what the article would mean. Andrew Girdwood of the Planning Board said the planners recommended approval because it would repeal a parking credit that lets businesses next to municipal lots supply fewer parking spaces than usually required.

Atty. Philip Sullivan of Punchard Avenue, however, told voters the law had been misinterpreted, and actually deals with the number of new spaces required when businesses expand. He said a yes vote would limit the expansion of downtown businesses, and recommended that voters "leave the bylaw alone."

A sixth article that would have changed the zoning laws, Article 23, was withdrawn from the warrant. That article would have requested rezoning a 56,524-square foot parcel off River Road from Industrial D to the less restrictive Industrial G zone.

Flag Bedecked Main Street Aim Of Memorial Committee

American flags adorning Main and Elm Streets on patriotic holidays is the goal of a special committee which launched a drive to accomplish the memorial tribute this week.

Under the direction of Veterans Services Director John Lewis, the 'Street Of Memorial Flags' committee began efforts this week to establish a Flag Memorial along Main Street from Pearson Street to Pynchard Avenue and Elm Street from Elm Square to Florence Street. The flags would be flown on Memorial Day, Flag Day, Fourth of July and Veterans Day.

The flags would be the Government burial flags given to relatives of deceased veterans at the time of the veteran's burial. The committee is asking the families of these veterans to donate their flags to this meaningful purpose, rather than storing them in a drawer or shelf at home. The flags will be numbered and a record kept in the name of the deceased veterans and the donor.

The designation of the four particular patriotic holidays is meant as a reminder to the public of the sacrifices of so many during America's defense of freedom.

The committee feels that the effort will be a return to earlier days when the particular holidays were marked by patriotic displays of flags and bunting in the downtown area. Also, it is an effort to instill a spirit of patriotism and respect for country.

Town Manager Kenneth Mahony has pledged support of the municipal maintenance department to attach the hardware to the light poles and to hoist the flags.

Faculty and students of the Greater Lawrence Technical School will manufacture the hardware to attach the flags to the poles.

People wishing to donate a flag may drop it off at the Veterans Services office in the town hall or any of the three fire stations.

Additional information may be obtained by contacting Lewis at the Veterans Service office, 475-1705.

The committee is hopeful of initiating the program by Memorial Day, but if all details can not be accomplished by that date, then on June 14, Flag Day.

Serving with Lewis are Fire Chief William Downs, Andover Bank President Robert M. Henderson, Richard Bowen, Mrs. Virginia Cole and James Bamford.

Trees Get A Reprieve

By Sue Aucella Deacon

A row of 60-year-old trees along Riverina Road have been granted a reprieve: The selectmen last week voted unanimously to defer a decision on cutting down the trees until absolutely necessary, and that may be two or three years from now.

In November, Massachusetts Electric proposed cutting down 13 trees on the road to make room for a new 13,000-volt power line that will be needed to serve the proposed Riverina Road pumping station. The trees, 12 Norway maples and one butternut maple, do not interfere with the existing 4,000-volt line.

The trees cannot be taken down without the selectmen's consent.

Selectman William Dalton explained that the town has "no pressing need" to bring in more powerful electric lines to serve the $7 million pumping station, since the new station won't be built for at least two years.

The electric company has said that stringing the lines overhead, where the existing lines are, would be the most cost-effective way to bring in the new lines, and would cost the town nothing. Other alternatives, such as running the new line on the other side of the river or putting it underground, would save the trees but cost more, according to the utility company.

But Dalton noted this week that Andover will probably be reimbursed by the state and federal governments for the cost of bringing new power lines to the new station when it is built.

To Seek Funds For Housing

With the selectmen's support, the Andover Housing Authority will seek government funding for 40 units of low-income family housing.

The selectmen voted unanimously Monday night to support the AHA's application for state and federal funding to help pay for the housing units.

Winston Blake of the authority explained that the AHA has no plans for a specific site at the moment, but is submitting a general application for funding to the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

Blake commented that a low-income housing project might meet with opposition from townspeople unless it is located on the outskirts of town.

But the selectmen said the project could be located anywhere in town. And Public Works Director Robert McQuade pointed out that providing fire protection could be difficult on the edge of town, because the town's water system wasn't designed to serve multiple-family complexes far from the center.

"Look at the areas that fit with what town utilities have to offer," McQuade suggested. "We have many areas that can support it now, closer to town."

And Community Development and Planning Director Jonathan Gilmore recommended that the housing authority work with the task forces now reviewing the town's comprehensive plan in the search for a site, since two of the task forces have been looking at land use and multi-family housing needs.

Flooded Out

Spring is a time for baseball, but also a time for showers and the area has had more than a normal share of the latter this season, causing some flooding of the new baseball fields at the Shawsheen Road secondary schools campus. Here, workmen employ pumps to relieve the fields of the excess water buildup in the hopes of returning the grounds to the more sporting elements.

Bus Brake Failure Cause Report Due

The School Committee expects to receive a report today on the reason why the brakes on a school bus failed recently as students were being taken home from South School.

Committee members Tuesday night said they are concerned that the cause of the brake failure might be one that should have been detected in safety inspections before the bus was allowed on the road.

Business Manager Francis Paul told the committee the brakes failed last Friday at the intersection of Andover and River streets as a driver for Dorothy Piercy's bus company was taking children home from South School.

The committee voted unanimously to commend driver Mary Babeau for reacting "splendidly." According to Paul, the driver put on her emergency flashers to warn other drivers and then steered the bus over a curb, where it came to a stop. No one was injured.

The bus is now being inspected and repaired at the Trombly garage in North Andover, the business manager explained, and a report on the cause of the brake failure is due today.

Paul said that according to Piercy, the failure was caused by a weak spot in the brake line, which "could never be detected" in an inspection. Piercy denies reports that a hole had rusted through the line, causing the brake failure, Paul said.

He added that although Registry of Motor Vehicles inspections do not check the undercarriage of buses, rust should be detected during regular inspections by bus owners.

After it has been repaired, the bus will be inspected by the Registry and by the business manager before it is allowed back in service, Paul told the committee.

Donald Robb said he was concerned that the Police Department was not notified quickly enough after the incident. He said the police were not called until after a parent contacted the school department and Paul then instructed the driver to call the police.

Paul replied that there was "a long time gap" before the police were called because the driver first called the bus company to send for another bus to take the children home, and helped load the children onto the second bus.

But Superintendent Kenneth Seifert said it was "common sense" to call the police immediately, and said that would be emphasized to drivers in the future: "This has highlighted a gap we have," Seifert said.

Town Meeting Wrapup

School Computers Approved

During two fast-paced nights last week, 1983 annual town meeting appropriated funds for new school computers, fire trucks and water mains, improvements to the cemetery and playfields, and a Bannister Road sewer line, among other expenditures.

Voters Monday night approved a $675,000 appropriation for capital purchases under Article 24: that will pay for $150,000 worth of school computers, $425,000 for an aerial ladder and pumper, and $100,000 worth of public safety communications equipment.

Some voters and officials objected to grouping those three items in one article, but the meeting voted 329 to 217 to consider all three in one motion, rather than split them into three motions.

Town Manager Kenneth Mahony said the funds would pay for new fire apparatus that will last for at least 15 years, and called it a good investment; he added that the town's communications equipment is badly outdated.

Robert Friedenson of Wild Rose Drive, member of an advisory task force on computers, urged approval, telling voters, "The heart of the information age is the computer."

But School Committee member Susan Poore, speaking in the minority for her committee, questioned the need for the number of computers requested, adding that teachers are not "totally trained yet" to work with computers.

A private article, Article 35, drew one of the longest and most intense discussions of the annual meeting — a discussion that began Monday night and continued on Tuesday.

In the end, the meeting voted 349 to 43 to construct a sanitary sewer line on Bannister Road, assessing betterments against the homeowners on the street — and, in an amendment to the motion, paying for half the cost of the betterments.

Atty. Michael Morris, representing the McGarry family of Bannister Road, explained that the family is living with a failed septic system that has never worked properly and cannot be fixed. "We have a disaster on our hands," Morris said.

But Richard Bowen of Bannister Road, a neighbor, said not all the residents had agreed — or could afford — to shoulder the $5,000 to $7,000 betterment cost. He proposed that each family pay the betterment when it ties into the sewer or in ten years, whichever came sooner — but withdrew that amendment the following night, after town counsel advised him it was not proper.

Fred Fitzgerald of Central Street proposed that the town pick up half the cost of the betterments to handle the problem in "a humane and considerate fashion."

Poore pointed out that the town might be setting a precedent, but Selectman William Dalton said he would "reluctantly" support Fitzgerald's amendment because the town was faced with "something approaching an emergency."

Voters also approved $1.3 million, to be funded by bond issue, to lay new water mains in accordance with the town's master plan (Article 52); $250,000, with $175,000 to be raised by bond issue, for improvements to Spring Grove Cemetery (Article 45); $50,000 to reconstruct playing fields at West Elementary School, South School, and in Shawsheen (Article 33); and $12,000 to lay a sanitary sewer line in Duf-ton and Sargent streets (Article 34).

Also: $3,000 for holiday lighting (Article 5); $5,000 for a revolving fund for the Council on Aging (Article 18); a transfer of $16,036 from available funds to supplement the fiscal '83 regional library budget (Article 25); and $15,000 to clean up unpaid bills (Article 31).

Conservation Items Approved

Town meeting last week voted to spend up to $22,500 to acquire a Red Spring Road parcel overlooking the Shawsheen River, along with its approval of five other conservation articles.

Article 41, requesting an appropriation of up to $22,500 to buy a 1.49-acre parcel from Robert and Janet Boush, prompted the only real discussion of the six Conservation Commission-sponsored articles last Tuesday night.

That article stipulated that Andover will apply for state grants that may reimburse the town for up to half of the $22,500.

Both the selectmen and Planning Board recommended approval of the article. But

Fred Fitzgerald of the Finance Committee said his board recommended disapproval because the amount of money requested was "not commensurate with the good to the town."

Dennis Powers of the conservation commission replied that the acquisition was important because the parcel is large enough to build on — and the town could lose access to its river frontage.

And Margaret Keck of the Andover Village Improvement Society (A.V.I.S.) urged voters to approve the article, calling the Shawsheen one of "the most important natural resources Andover has. We should make it a town goal to secure as much riverfront property as we can," she said.

Just before voters approved the article, Fitzgerald assured them the finance committee's stand did not indicate an "anti-conservationist trend" on the committee.

The meeting also approved Article 42, authorizing the conservation commission to acquire a five-acre strip of land between the Shawsheen River and Pole Hill south of Ballardvale center from the MBTA; and Article 43, authorizing the acquisition of a three-acre strip between the Shawsheen and the railroad tracks off Lowell Junction Road, also from the MBTA.

Planning Board member Margaret Bradshaw said those articles would "enhance" Pole Hill and help protect the river, as well as provide more public access to the river.

The town will apply for state grants to help fund those purchases; purchase prices have not been specified.

And voters approved Articles 38, 39 and 40 to correct action taken on conservation articles approved by last year's annual town meeting. Authorization to seek state reimbursement was accidentally omitted from 1982 Articles 22, 23, and 24: Those articles authorized the acquisition of conservation land near Fish Brook, on Wood Hill, and on Haggetts Pond Road.

A Fine Idea

A group of local residents has come up with an excellent idea---creating a 'Street of Memorial Flags,' a community display of patriotism and tribute to veterans of all wars.

This special committee, formed under the guidance of Veterans Agent John Lewis, is launching a drive this week to obtain flags and the necessary appurtenances to line Main Street from Punchard Avenue through Elm Square and up Elm Street to Florence Street.

The tribute would take place four times a year, Memorial Day, Flag Day, Fourth of July and Veterans Day.

To accomplish this, the committee is requesting families of veterans who are given government burial flags to donate them to the town, to be flown on these particular patriotic days. The flags will be numbered and records kept to memorialize the deceased veterans and the donor.

Making the effort community-oriented, municipal departments will attach hardware to light poles and hoist the flags prior to the holidays. Greater Lawrence Technical School students and faculty will manufacture the necessary hardware.

The particular effort is something of which Andover can be proud.

If one were to delve back into the history of the community, pictures of patriotic observances of days gone by give evidence of the community's pride in patriotism.

The downtown area was decorated with flags and bunting, annually proclaiming the holiday and the tribute meant for the particular occasion.

It need not be pointed out that in more recent years, patriotism and public display of love of country has not been fashionable. Rather, the opposite seems to have claimed the attention on several occasions.

What better way and what better place than here in Andover, where the national hymn, "America," was written to reinforce the importance of appreciation of the freedoms cherished by all through the patriotic display of the American Flag along our main thoroughfare.

Adding to the tribute is the memorial afforded by the flag of a veteran whose sacrifice preserved our freedom.

We look forward to the enthusiastic support of the community as the drive gets underway this week, with the hope that a flag-lined street will accompany Memorial Day activities, and, if not by then, by Flag Day in June.

Officials Commended

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

I would like to pay tribute to several town officials whose thoughtfulness and dedication stood out during the period leading up to the adoption by town meeting of the gravel removal by-law amendments. The new amendments include my proposal to empower the Planning Board to block unwarranted earth removal by subdivision developers.

Planning Board Chairman Jerry Greer and every member of that board deserve praise for their careful and concerned review of the gravel issue, which has been a troublesome problem in this town for too long. The Planning Board's receptiveness to new ideas and responsiveness to citizen concerns were impressive.

My proposal, prior to town meeting, happened to occasion discussion of a second issue which had nothing to do with gravel: the right of town meeting to make the ultimate decisions in the legislating town policy. On this issue, the Board of Selectmen stood firm in preserving the integrity of the warrant and the authority of town meeting. Also, Town Manager Ken Mahoney, despite personal misgivings on the substance of my proposal, acted to ensure that town meeting could hear and act on it, and for that I salute him.

Finally, the town owes a debt of gratitude to special town counsel Tom Arnold, who worked long and hard to produce the gravel by-law amendments in Article 48. Over many months he was able to mediate differing concerns of developers and residents to produce a proposal that earned nearly unanimous support on all sides. It was a difficult job and he did it extremely well.

Down The Years With The Townsman

75 Years Ago — April 1908

The famous globe trotter, Henri Mosse, passed through Andover Saturday afternoon en route to Quebec, Canada, from which he will sail for France.

Professor Brown's class in Physical Culture for gentlemen will start in lower hall, Town Hall, Monday, at 8.30 p.m. The professor will be at the hall from 7.30 for the purpose of receiving the names of ladies who may wish to take a course, if a sufficient number can be obtained, a class will be formed.

"It was one of the quietest and most harmonious meetings held for some years." This is the verdict of many citizens who attended the town meeting on Monday afternoon. The warrant was a short one with no large appropriations to be asked for, but the small amounts added up with startling rapidity and many soon realized that the town was appropriating money lavishly.

50 Years Ago — April 1933

Over 2200 Andover people voted in favor of having the state reconsider the state school question in the only upset that took place Monday in the heaviest vote yet cast in a town election. The state school supporters led in all precincts except the fourth, and even on the hill they managed to annex 207 votes out of 670.

The distinction of being the official biographer of the late Calvin Coolidge was conferred on Dr. Claude M. Fuess of Phillips Academy last week. Mrs. Coolidge is turning over to the local teacher all the state papers possessed by the noted New Englander. These will be used exclusively by Dr. Fuess.

The events of the past week have probably softened the ardor of many of those who are seeking appropriations in the annual town warrant. With the banking situation so unsettled, it would be most unwise to be lavish in expenditures this year, and it is hoped that the people of Andover will act sanely on Monday afternoon.

25 Years Ago — April 1958

Andover will operate under a town manager-selectmen form of government, starting a year from this Monday, as a result of the voters' decision Monday. A clear majority, of the 6,326 who voted, cast their ballots for the manager plan in an upset victory. Last year the proposal was beaten by a wide margin, while the vote Monday was 3138 for it and 2792 opposed.

Baby-sitting services will be available again this year for voters who wish to attend town meeting. Members of the High School Service Club, in cooperation with the League of Women Voters, will "sit" with youngsters from five years and up, planning games and movies to keep the youngsters happy and satisfied in the gymnasium.

At a meeting held recently in the Memorial Hall Library, the Andover Town Committee elected Philip K. Allen of Highland road its chairman. Mr. Allen has recently returned to Andover after a five year absence, during which time he worked in Washington as chief clerk of the Senate Armed Services Committee and Deputy Assistant Secretary of Defense.

10 Years Ago — April 1973

Among the more encouraging bits of news around town hall this week was the bid opening on Monday for the proposed Doherty-Shawsheen schools renovation project. The lowest of the 14 bids submitted was $635,000 presented by the Salem Building and Construction Co. of Salem, N.H.

In a somewhat unusual approach, a team candidacy pledged to reform the school department operations, upset incumbent Frank J. Hill, Jr. and changed the complexion of the school committee in Monday's election. With less than 50 percent of the total registered voters turning out, the electorate chose John F. Lyons and John G. Wragg as new school committee members, endorsing their campaign based on a return to the traditional classroom vs. the open education methods.

The Zoning Board of Appeals has granted permission for the construction of six additional apartment buildings off South Main street, owned by Colonial Drive Realty Trust. The buildings will be part of the apartment complex there now in an apartment zone.

Theatre Program Available

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

In the March 31 issue of the TOWNSMAN, The Public Forum printed a letter expressing the concerns of a young writer for a theatre for teens in Andover.

The Andover Community Theatre (A.C.T.) presents six productions each season, including two productions for children between the ages of six and 12. We have made the commitment to bring diverse and quality productions to the stage in our attempt to attain our goal of being a viable community theatre for the Town of Andover. The plays and musicals chosen are selected to reach this goal. Except for the children's productions, auditions for all productions are open to everyone, however, those cast must meet the particular qualifications demanded by each role. One of these qualifications is the age of the character to be portrayed. Last season, the cast of "A Christmas Carol" included young children and teenagers as well as adults, and in "A Funny Thing Happened On The Way To The Forum," four teenagers participated, two in leading roles. This season, the cast of "Pippin" included a young boy and a local teen.

Each summer a musical is chosen specifically to provide the youth of the community with an opportunity to participate in theatre. As early as last fall we announced that this summer's production would be "West Side Story," a musical cited by the writer in her letter.

I encourage the young writer, and the many talented teenagers in the town who want to sing and dance, to audition for "West Side Story." Auditions are May 31 and June 1. And next season, audition for one of our productions, if you feel qualified for a particular role. In addition, Andover High offers a drama program and I'm sure they would welcome your participation.

Emasculating Town Meeting

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

Every newspaper understands this: "Knowledge ever governs ignorance." How has this been used to pervade Andover's civic business? Some instances follow:

1) The town's civic affairs are regulated with bylaws. Town meeting warrants, as do all respectable orders of public business, state, among other things, that consideration will be given to "any other business that may be legally brought before the meeting."

Some years ago, and without permission of town meeting, the office of selectmen removed that phrase from the annual warrant of business. A town manager advocate of this emasculation "justified" the removal on the ground that voters were using it!!

2) The recent town meeting was confronted with an arrangement for voting on certain purchases. These, though unrelated, were lumped into one warrant article. An effect was to make discussion of a single purchase meaningless because all had to be voted for or against together.

Management with the approval of Fin Con billed this as something new. However, it is as old as unreliable politics. In Washington it is correctly called "the pork barrel method."

3) Article 4, "To see what sums of money will be raised" for general operating expenses, becomes less satisfactory as presented. Voters no longer are allowed to vote on detail line items. Mostly sums of 100,000s to millions are presented for action.

What can voters do to ward off the selectman-Fin Con cabal for governing town meeting by encouraging ignorance and so control the meeting? Make it their own in reality.

One avenue to relief is this: By secret ballot, when town officers are elected, provide the voters with an opportunity to correct town meeting by-laws.

As a starter, require any item costing more than $500 to be presented as a separate uncombinable warrant article. Another would require items composing Article 4, or its equivalent to be presented as line items similar to those in the selectmen's budget; require the same for the school budget.

Also, return to the warrant that shining bright light which directs us to give consideration to any other business that may legally come before the meeting. Without it, Democracy is blinded.

Officials Unhappy About Delay In School Building Completion

By Sue Aucella Deacon

Renovations at Doherty Junior High are 98 percent complete. That may sound good, but the work has been 98 percent complete for the past two months, and school officials are unhappy about continuing delays in finishing the project.

Doherty Principal Richard McGrail Tuesday night told the School Committee the project is in much the same state as it was in mid-February.

General contractor Peabody Construction had promised the gymnasium and auditorium would be ready in January, but the gym floor still needs to be cleaned and there are loose tiles in showers and peeling paint in the locker rooms, he indicated.

"It looks like two good days' work would get this thing ready," McGrail said. "Unfortunately, in the meantime students can't use it." Doherty students have been using physical education facilities at Phillips Academy, but that arrangement recently ended and students currently have no physical classes.

The principal said Superintendent Kenneth Seifert and Town Manager Kenneth Mahony are determined not to let students use the area until all work has been completed; otherwise the contractor might be inclined to blame all problems and delays on the fact that the area is occupied, McGrail explained.

Peabody completed most of the work at Doherty in time for September's school opening, a full year ahead of schedule. But school officials find it frustrating that the gym and auditorium remain unusable when they were expected to be ready in January and are "virtually finished," Michael Giammusso said.

Committee members voted unanimously to hear a full report from School Building Committee Chairman Kenneth Gropper during their next meeting — with or without a representative from Peabody Construction on hand.

Committeeman Donald Robb, the committee's representative on the building committee, said the town has been "treated pretty shabbily" by the contractor. He recommended that no more bills be paid until the Doherty problem is "settled to our satisfaction."

Robb said Peabody worked at a rapid pace at the school while the company was competing for a contract to renovate the two East Junior High wings no longer used by the school. After that contract went to another contractor (Channel Building of Andover), work slowed down at Doherty, he indicated.

The superintendent took the opportunity to recommend that on future building projects "a hundred years from now", a building project coordinator be on the job "all the way up to the last minute." McGrail was building project coordinator until last year, when that position was cut to save funds; McGrail returned to his previous position as East (now Doherty) Junior High principal.

Seifert said that if a building coordinator was still working with the contractor full-time, "we wouldn't be in this bind. We have lost in the last year more than that person's salary."

Later during the meeting, the committee voted three to two to allow a small group of South School students to choose which junior high they will attend, with Robb opposed (Susan Poore was absent).

McGrail explained that most South students go on to Doherty, but each year a small number are sent to West Junior High. Last year, however, the 19 students living in the WJH district were allowed to choose between Doherty or West Junior High. The principal said 10 chose one school and nine the other.

He recommended letting students choose next year as well; 22 students would be involved, and the junior high administrators assume the split would be fairly even, McGrail said. He advised against looking beyond next year because school population projections can change quickly.

Robb said he was concerned that allowing students that choice could lead to an "imbalance" between the junior high populations; adding that district boundaries should be established and adhered to.

School Housekeeping Can Be Maintained Internally, Paul Says

The School Committee is looking for a more efficient system for managing school housekeeping operations, and the school administration thinks it's up to the task. The committee, however, has reserved judgment until its next meeting.

Business Manager Francis Paul Tuesday night presented the committee with a comparison between Servicemaster, a professional custodial management service, and a plan to have the business manager's office supervise school custodians.

Servicemaster has been "very highly praised" by its customers, including St. John's Hospital in Lowell, Paul said. The company does not serve any Massachusetts public schools.

The business manager reported last month that Servicemaster would supervise a staff of 27.5, providing work schedules, cleaning schedules, training, equipment and floor-cleaning materials at an annual cost of $526,900. The company is seeking a three-year contract.

But Paul said for $525,514, his office could supervise a staff of 30 "just as well. And in the long haul, we will have a better system."

He said internal supervision would work out better because "we'd have an opportunity to work more closely with our people. We'd be salvaging what is good about our system, instead of starting from scratch with a whole new system."

Paul said the schools "certainly need to improve the quality of our housekeeping," but said he was confident internal supervision could make the school buildings "the pride of Andover."

Superintendent Kenneth Seifert also recommended the internal plan, because next year a new town-school central maintenance program will begin. With the maintenance staff removed from the school department's direct control, it might be wise to keep the custodial staff under its control, Seifert said, at least for a two-year trial period.

But schoolman Robert Smith moved to give the three-year contract to Servicemaster. "Their proposal fills all our needs," he explained. "I feel it would benefit Andover to let a professional company take over the program."

When no one seconded Smith's motion, Paul suggested bringing in a Servicemaster representative to appear briefly before the committee during their next meeting. Chairman Richard Neal agreed that that "might be helpful," and Smith's motion was unofficially tabled.

The business manager said he would like a decision as quickly as possible so the new system can get underway immediately and "gear up for the summer."

Kitchen Design

David A. Clement, designer

Struggling with a stack of heavy baking dishes, when only one is needed, is an ordeal in most kitchens. Because of their diverse sizes, they never seem to stack neatly. One way to resolve this problem is to store them vertically in a deep cabinet drawer beside the oven. The individual dishes can be kept separated by vertically hinged dividers. Each divider can be clipped into place on the front and back walls of the drawer. In this way, they can be moved about to make room for dishes of differing widths. Extra space can be used to store cook books and appliance manuals.

Making sure, when you remodel, that your new kitchen will please you is relatively easy. Making sure your new kitchen will fulfill your family's needs is something else. Here at WINDSOR KITCHENS we offer quality products and workmanship and we can design and install, a kitchen to accommodate your space, the shape of the room or your budget. We're located on Rte. 125 just 1/2 mile of Western Electric at 1181 Boston Rd. in Ward Hill or phone 372-3444. Our hours are Mon-Thurs 9-5:30, Fri till 8, Sat till 5, eves by appt. and there is plenty of free and easy parking near our showroom door.

Best On All Star Ski Team

Robert Best of Andover is one of seven members of the St. Michael's College men's ski team named to the Easter Intercollegiate Ski Association Division II all-star team.

Best, the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Best of Main Street, is a freshman mathematics major. He was named to the team for his outstanding efforts on the men's cross country relay team.

Ski coach Ben McDivitt explained that St. Michael's earned one of every three spots on the team based on their season's results.

The men's ski team enjoyed its finest season, finishing third in the New England Division II championships. Best took seventh place in the individual cross country race, putting him in the top ten of all cross country skiers in New England Division II. The relay team, featuring Best, made a strong showing, finishing second in the championships.

St. Michael's College, founded in 1903 and headed by Pres. Edward L. Henry, is Vermont's largest Catholic, liberal arts and sciences institution. Located in Winooski, the four-year, coeducational college has an enrollment of 1,600 undergraduate and some 500 graduate and International Student Program students.

Babe Ruth Tryouts Scheduled

The Andover Blue and Andover Gold Babe Ruth baseball teams will hold their annual spring tryout sessions on Saturday and Sunday, April 16 and 17, at the Chestnut Court field behind Doherty Junior High.

The tryouts will run from 1 p.m. to approximately 5 p.m. both days.

All youngsters between the ages of 13 and 15, who do not reach their 16th birthday prior to August 1, 1983, are eligible to play.

All 13-year-old candidates are asked to report to the field at 1 p.m. both Saturday and Sunday, while 14 and 15-year-old candidates should report at 3 p.m.

Fifteen players will be selected for both the Blue and Gold squads (30 overall), and all positions are open. Players on the teams last summer are required to try out again.

All candidates are urged to bring spikes and a glove to the tryouts.

The two Andover teams will again participate in the Greater-Lawrence Babe Ruth League, which runs from early June until early August, playing against teams from North Andover and Lawrence.

The season, including playoffs, will consist of approximately 20 league games with the possibility of non-league and All-Star tournament games as well.

Andover Gold is the two-time defending league regular season and playoff champion, boasting a record of 50-6 the past two years (26-3 and 24-3) and including all action, Gold has won more than 100 games the last four years.

Blue has also finished high in the standings consistently, twice battling to the playoff championship round over the past four years.

The majority of the players currently on the Andover High roster are Babe Ruth graduates, while a number of former players are also playing college baseball at schools throughout the country.

Last summer a combined squad of Blue and Gold 13-year-old players won the championship of the Saugus Invitational Tournament, while two years ago Andover advanced to the semifinals of a 14-15 year old tourney in Lexington before a schedule conflict forced them to withdraw.

Babe Ruth tryouts will precede Andover Senior Little League tryouts, so that all players not selected for the Ruth teams will be eligible to try out for Senior League.

All 13-year-old players chosen for the Babe Ruth teams may also participate in the Senior League 13-year-old division if they wish, because the seasons do not conflict.

Babe Ruth tryouts may be extended to include the following weekend (April 23 and 24) as well, depending on the turnout, and those two days will also be used as rain dates, if necessary.

On The Soccer Fields

By She Livermore

All of the in-town Essex County games were cancelled Sunday due to the poor condition of the fields. Some teams did travel out of town, however, to play their first game of the season and results of these contests appear below:

Andover Stoppers - Topsfield 1

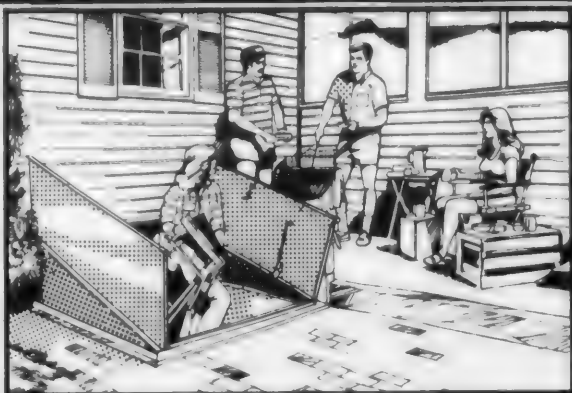

Andover took the lead in the first half when Zack Apgar scored on a pass from Dan Boland. In the second, following pressure in front of the net, Topsfield United tied it up. Both teams fought hard for the extra goal and the win, and towards the end of the contest, Apgar chipped a nice shot to Paul Finnegan who headed the ball into the net to give the Stoppers the victory points. BOW: Goalie Brandon Bachner and Dan Poore.

Raiders Win Title

The North Shore Raiders won the Metropolitan Boston Squirt AA Hockey League championship last weekend. They beat Assabet Valley 3-1 in the title game after taking Hobomock 6-1 in the semi's.

Two Andover boys contributed greatly; forward Matt Adams and defenseman Kenny Leng.

Andover All-Stars Reach Finals

By Rick Harrison

Superb all-around performances by Mike Lane, Kurt Burzlaff, Steve Redgate, Chris Colsia and Rich Bourdelais last weekend sparked the Andover All-Stars seventh and eighth grade traveling basketball team to the championship final of the second annual Central Catholic Invitational Tournament, as the locals played their best team ball of the season enroute to three consecutive victories.

Andover advanced to the title contest with wins over St. Joseph's of Salem (57-33), St. Augustine's Warriors of Lawrence (44-43) and the Lawrence Boys' Club (51-47).

The championship game was scheduled for earlier this week at the Central gym with Andover facing McAvinnue School of Lowell which entered with a 29-2 overall record.

The Andover All-Stars were not as fortunate in two other tournament appearances last weekend, the seventh and eighth grade crew dropping a 40-36 decision to Amherst, N.H., in the Merrimack College Invitational, and the eighth and ninth graders bowing to Quincy 48-37 in the opening round of the annual Lexington Hayden Invitational Tournament.

Last weekend's 3-2 showing left all Andover All-Star teams with a combined 13-12 record this spring (87-36 the last four years), while the seventh and eighth grade crew improved to 6-4 individually.

Andover, 57-33

The locals launched their Central Catholic tournament run with a lopsided 57-33 romp over St. Joseph's of Salem, N.H., grabbing an 18-7 first quarter lead and stretching it to 30-14 by halftime.

Andover Attackers 3

Ipswich Kicks 0

Andover dominated the play in the first half, but the Ipswich defense thwarted the many goal attempts. In the second half the Attackers kept up the pressure and scored three goals to win a decisive 3-0 victory. Scoring were Mike O'Connell on a pass from Tim Donovan, Scott Balestra on a pass from William Gorman and Donovan on a pass from Scott Brink. BOW: Robin Kim and Tim Donovan.

Andover Furies 1

Salem Shooting Stars 1

Salem played a strong first half, during which they took a one-goal lead. Andover tied it up early in the second half when Torrie Fitzpatrick assaulted the Salem nets. Both teams were working hard for the extra goal and the win, when the game was called by the referee due to bad weather conditions. BOW: Defensive players Sara Michelle Sapuppo and Katy Hughes and center half back Aimee Ross.

Andover Booters 0

Saugus No Names 4

The Booters found themselves under attack by the No Names from the opening whistle and the name of the game was defense. The fullbacks worked hard, but Saugus was not to be denied and they led 4-0 at the half. Midway through the second half the referee called the game due to poor weather conditions and the Booters lost the opportunity to deny the shutout. BOW: Goalie Christine Ferrera for some great saves, which minimized the loss.

Andover Cobras 0

Salem Witches 5

The Salem Witches spooked the Cobras with their aggressive play and excellent defense which held Andover scoreless but enabled them to kick in a total of five goals before the final whistle.

The winners continued to dominate in the second half, making use of a half-court trap to produce several rapid-fire breakaway baskets.

Nine different players entered the scoring act for Andover, Chris Colsia and Steve Redgate leading the assault with 18 and 12 points, respectively.

Kurt Burzlaff and Mike Lane pumped through 6 points each, while Rich Bourdelais and Paul Caron added 4 points apiece.

Nick Coon tossed through 3 points, Rick Lafond 2 and Concemi 2 for the Andover crew.

Colsia, Burzlaff, Bourdelais and Redgate were also strong off the boards, Burzlaff and Colsia had several blocked shots and Lane contributed his usual hustling defensive effort at guard.

Andover, 44-43

Mike Lane was the hero for Andover in its one-point decision over St. Augustine's of Lawrence, a team the locals defeated by an almost identical 44-42 score in the championship game of the Lawrence JCC Tournament last spring.

Andover's perpetual-motion lefty guard calmly swished four clutch free throws in the final 30 seconds of play, including two with 0:08 showing on the clock and Andover trailing 43-42 at the time.

St. Augustine's led 10-8 after one period with Andover's inside trio of Chris Colsia, Kurt Burzlaff and Rich Bourdelais doing all the offensive damage.

The locals inched ahead 24-22 at halftime and maintained a slim edge throughout most of the second half until surrendering the lead late in the game after Burzlaff fouled out.

That set the stage for Lane's late heroics.

Colsia once again led the balanced Andover attack with 14 points, Lane finished with 10, including eight in the fourth quarter, and Burzlaff had 9 points, 10 rebounds and 2 blocked shot prior to fouling out.

Steve Redgate produced another solid floor game, delivering seven points, a half-dozen assists and helping break the St. Augustine's pressure with his dribbling skills.

Bourdelais and Concemi added a bucket apiece while Bourdelais was again strong under the boards.

Andover, 51-47

The Andover seventh and eighth graders put together their finest effort of the tournament season, displaying the type of team basketball and aggressive defense that made them consistent winners all last year.

Andover never trailed in the contest, leading 12-8 after one quarter, 26-20 at halftime and 34-32 after three periods.

The Lawrence boys Club, which had reached the finals of the Pepsi Challenge Tournament and the semifinals of the Merrimack College tourney, tied the score several times.

Andover, thanks to excellent performances from Kurt Burzlaff, Steve Redgate and Mike Lane down the stretch, led 46-37 with less than two minutes to play and then nursed the lead until the final buzzer. Burzlaff, forced to the sidelines early in the opening period with three quick fouls, reappeared late in the third stanza and dominated the inside the rest of the way.

He finished the contest with 12 points and a number of rebounds, despite playing only the equivalent of half the game.

Lane and redgate directed the offense and handled the LBC pressure with few problems.

Lane pocketed points, eight of them in the first half and most as the result of aggressive play, while Redgate finished with six points and added numerous assists with well-executed setup passes.

Chris Colsia continued his fine offensive play, boosting his three-game tourney total to 46 points and leading Andover for the third straight contest with 14 points.

Rich Bourdelais pumped through two points and was strong off the boards, while key buckets were also netted by Nick Coon and Paul Caron.

Chris Concemi also played well for the locals.

Amherst, N.H., 40-36

Amherst, which continued on to the Merrimack Tournament title game before bowing to citation Realty of Methuen, used its superior height and a 15-6 second quarter burst as the keys to its victory over Andover.

The locals held Amherst without a fieldgoal in the first period, taking a 5-2 lead, but Andover fell behind 17-11 by halftime and had an uphill struggle the rest of the way.

Andover succeeded in tying the game 32-32 midway through the final period, but Amherst converted several key free throws down the stretch.

Kurt Burzlaff led seven Andover players into the scoring column with 11 points, Chris Colsia netted all eight of his points in the final quarter.

Madison Hill Upholsterers—One Of The Oldest In New England

At Madison Hill Upholsterers, 300 Canal St., Lawrence, they believe there's no compromising quality. They've been in the business of reupholstering for years and not one of Madison Hill's skilled craftsmen has less than 25 years of experience!

The chairs in the picture above were in a fire and Madison Hill not only reupholstered but also refinished and repaired them. In fact, they do the complete job. Framework, finishwork and even redesigning, if desired, will make your good furniture last a lifetime.

Just call 686-7264 and their interior decorator will come to your home and show you a selection of fabrics from all over the world.

Satins and linens from Italy, cut velvets from Brussels, all types of silks and tweeds—you'll find anything and everything. Once the fabric is selected, the piece is brought to their shop and returned to your home upon completion.

At Madison Hill, you'll find custom-made furniture, restored antiques and quality leather work, using top grain cowhide. Only kiln-dried hardwoods and steel webbing are used. Tempered coil steel springs are hand-tied with Italian flax coated with latex to increase tensile strength and retard deterioration. Cushions are filled by air pressure. Non-allergenic filler is used. Fabrics are lock-stitched, skirts lined with buckram. Finish pieces are steamed in the shop to eliminate shrinkage after delivery.

And all work is done in Madison Hill's factory by their own artisans.

So, trust your furniture to one of the oldest reupholstering firms in New England. (Their long list of satisfied customers says it all—probably one of your friends have relied upon Madison Hill for their reupholstering needs.) Madison Hill Reupholsterers, 300 Canal St., Lawrence. Tel. 686-7264.

that will be permanently maintained by the developer or his tenants.

Among Kelly's problems with the site: He hopes to provide water and sewer service from Andover, but town sanitary sewer lines now end at the Cressey-Dockham plant. Brustlin proposed extending the sewer lines from Cressey-Dockham along the railroad tracks and into Kelly's site, and building a pumping station to pump sewage from the site into the sewer system.

Brustlin said that with little production planned for the office park, it would have a "relatively low water consumption" compared to other industrial uses that would be allowed on the site.

Public Works Director Robert McQuade told the selectmen allowing the extension and pumping station would be the first extension to the town's master sewer plan, approved by town meeting in 1980. "This is a major decision facing you," McQuade said.

Town sewer lines are capable of handling the proposed development, he said, but if in the future the South Andover area is completely developed, the sewer system would be at full capacity. The master plan was not designed to include such a project, McQuade said.

He reminded the board that the town had to approve a new master plan three years ago because the town had granted so many exceptions to its 1957 plan that the courts eventually ruled that plan invalid as a basis for denying further sewer extensions.

Atty. Marden said the town would not be extending the sewer lines, because Kelly would build and maintain his own line. The selectmen could either grant the developer a variance to the master plan or amend the plan to allow the project, he suggested.

He called the proposal "a very worthwhile project for the town" because it would bring in "substantial tax revenues" while demanding "low services."

But Selectman Donn Byrne said, "Once we let you tie into the Cressey-Dockham line, we're beyond the master plan. The cap comes off, and we're outside of the area."

Kelly said it would be possible to serve the site with a subsurface disposal system, but sewerage would be preferable because "septic systems have a tendency to be a problem."

Community Development and Planning Director Jonathan Gilmore said he was also concerned about possible traffic problems with Burt Road, which will be one access to the site.

Brustlin said Burt Road would be improved, but would be used only as "a good safety valve, not a major access." Main access will be from Ballardvale Road, crossing the railroad tracks. The developer is seeking permission to cross the tracks and has been "encouraged" by the railroad, he said.

Kelly is the developer of a Burlington office park on Burlington Mall Road, and recently completed an office and research park on the former Pleasure Island site in Wakefield.

Winter Problems, Jogging Get Meeting Attention

The moderator called it "a fruitful meeting", and among its accomplishments, annual town meeting last week toughened up the ban against winter all-night parking, transferred old street railway right-of-ways to abutting property owners, and passed a resolution on safe jogging habits.

Among the few articles the meeting vetoed, voters decided not to make the town responsible for clearing snow from downtown sidewalks, a responsibility that now rests with property-owners.

Voters approved Article 32, which will allow the Police Department to tow violators of the winter parking ban, which prohibits on-street parking from 1 to 6 a.m. Dec. 1 to April 1. They also approved Article 36, which transfers from the town to 12 property-owners along South Main Street a ten-foot strip of right of ways abandoned by the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway some 25 years ago.

And they quickly passed a resolution on safe jogging, walking and bicycling practices under Article 50, authored by Selectman William Dalton. Dalton presented the motion — and then moved to vote on the article with no discussion. Moderator James Doherty asked the meeting to vote by raising "one hand — or one foot, as the case may be."

A move to make the town responsible for clearing the snow from downtown sidewalks within 24 hours of a snowfall failed under Article 21. Atty. Philip Sullivan spoke on behalf of his mother, Clare Sullivan of Punchard Avenue, who inserted the article.

Sullivan explained that the sidewalks often remain unplowed for days, until town Public Works crews clean them up. He argued that the job would not cost the town more money, since the town already does the work; it would simply be done sooner.

But DPW Director Robert McQuade said the responsibility for clearing those sidewalks should remain with property-owners, because the town's first priority is clearing sidewalks along the routes that children walk to school. McQuade suggested that more effort be made to enforce the existing law instructing merchants clear the sidewalks.

Other articles approved: to transfer $10,000 from available funds to augment a revolving fund to pay police officers for off-duty detail (Article 37); to accept the "Quinn" bill, allowing pay increases to police who earn college credits (Article 53); to act upon the report of town officers (Article 3); to authorize revenue anticipation borrowing (Article 6); to establish the salaries of elected officials (Article 26: "We'd better not have any opposition on this one," the moderator joked); to authorize town officials to apply for and accept state and federal grants (Article 27); to use free cash to reduce the 1983-84 tax rate (Article 28); to use unexpended appropriations (Article 29); and to enter into state DPW contracts (Article 30).

Articles withdrawn from the warrant before they came before town meeting included Article 20, requesting a $5,000 appropriation for the care of a memorial to Vietnam and Korean war veterans at Ballardvale green (that work is to be done as part of the Public Works budget); and Article 51, asking for an exchange of town-owned land between Essex and Pearson streets for a similarly-sized nearby private parcel.

PREVENT KITCHEN FIRES

For most people, there's no finer investment than a home. But a fire can — in a matter of seconds — turn that dreamhouse into a nightmare. And neither homeowners insurance nor life insurance can compensate for the loss of a home or, certainly, the people who live in it.

More fires start in the kitchen than in any other part of the house. Most of them, however, are food fires — a problem not related to construction of the building. But if there is a window above the stove, don't plan to hang curtains there when and if you become the owner.

If you have small children, you will want to be sure that burner controls on built-in ranges are not within reach of inquisitive fingers.

Many kitchen ceiling fixtures are unventilated and overlamped, producing heat that bakes insulation on wiring to a crisp. After moving in, such wiring should be replaced and lower-wattage bulbs installed.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at THE HOWE AGENCY, 4 Punchard Ave., Andover. Phone: 475-5100. We're here to help.

If your cakes tend to fall a lot, it could be because the eggs you use are too big. Medium to large eggs are best. Extra large may be too much for your baked goods.

Save your Chimney!

with the revolutionary THERMOCRETE Chimney Lining System

Unlined chimneys and damaged tile flues are not only inefficient — they can be dangerous. Let us turn your old, unsafe chimney into one that's actually better than new, with THERMOCRETE'S fast, proven system. Look at these advantages:

- You get a smooth, round, cast-in-place flue that's far more insulating than steel liners, far less costly than rebuilding.
- Permanent and gas-tight — no seams or joints. Stops smoke, sparks and creosote leakage. Seals out odor, toxic fumes, discoloration. Impervious to corrosives, so it's great for oil, gas, coal or wood.
- For both residential and commercial chimneys. Fits inside most worn or damaged tile liners. Even goes around bends! Installs quickly from the outside, with no mess and usually no construction needed.
- Fills cracks and crevices completely. Improves structural integrity — and property value.
- Helps efficiency, fuel economy by insulating the stack, reducing down-drafts, and matching flue size to appliance capacity.

more powerful electric lines to serve new office condominiums he is developing across the river from the pumping station site. Dalton indicated that Sheehy will have to work with the electric company to come up with the best way to serve his site, but cutting down the trees will not be one of his alternatives.

A number of Shawsheen Village residents urged the selectmen to save the trees during a January meeting. Residents argued that the trees, planted when William Wood created the village, are part of Shawsheen's history.

Neighbors added that the trees also shield them from a view of the existing pumping station and office buildings across the river — and add beauty to the road three seasons of the year.

Supplement to

THE ANDOVER TOWNSMAN

APRIL 14, 1983

All Properties Listed

The property value listings in this supplement are provided by the Assessors Department and published as a service by the Andover Townsman with the assistance of many participants in this 68-page section.

Each listing contains, reading from left, the assessors map parcel number, unit number, property owner listing, location listing and total property value.

Andover Property Values Are Listed

Today's special TOWNSMAN supplement contains a listing of all Andover properties following the first full year of 100 per cent valuation.

The figures were published a year ago following a complete revaluation of the town by the PRC Jaccobs firm.

Following the issuance of the new values, the Andover Assessors received 1,152 appeals. After hearings and decisions by the local board, 82 cases were presented to the state appellate tax board for further consideration.

This year, with the adjusted figures based on resolving appeals, the assessors have received only 130 appeals.

Listings in today's supplement include 9,950 parcels, an increase of 232 over a year ago and represent a total town valuation of $1,011,264,900, an increase of $23,678,800 over last's year's total.

The individual property breakdown shows $733,554,400 in residential properties, $94,343,200, commercial; $149,374,700, industrial; $10,630,800, open space and $23,362,200 in personal property.

Andover's tax rate increased 50 cents to $20 per thousand this past year. Of the total rate, $11.28 is for school costs and $8.72 for general government obligations.

PLAN TO COME IN NOW, FOR YOUR CLINIQUE BONUS: "PLAN OF ACTION"

Yours at no charge whatever with any Clinique purchase of 7.50 or more.

If you're planning on better-looking skin this season, here is the best way to start--with Clinique's action-packed bonus of five beauty-works. Two famous skin improvers, and three spectacular kinds of makeup--all yours in special portable try-sizes that are only available now that it's Clinique bonus time.

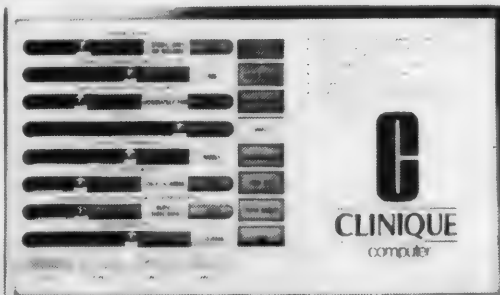

CLINIQUE

Allergy Tested.
100% Fragrance Free.

Dramatically Different Moisturizing Lotion. Perfect "drink" for silkier, finer skin. Sub-Skin Cream. Helps diminish fine dry lines, makes skin look firmer and smoother. Gel Rouge. Unique sheer blusher--won't fade, doesn't rub off. In Honeyed Red. Eye Shading Pencil. Works as liner, or smudges into shadow. In Pewter, with Sharpener. Lip Gloss. To make a mouth look newer, fresher. Meadow-Flower Honey.

One bonus to a customer.

For a fast, free skin analysis, come and meet the CLINIQUE COMPUTER.

Clinique is a total system of skin care. And the very heart of the system is the Clinique Computer. Programmed by a group of leading dermatologists, it asks eight essential questions and analyzes the answers to determine skin type and the proper Clinique products and procedures. Then a sequence of three minutes in the morning and another three minutes at night results in better looking skin.

AUTHENTICITY

Among many good reasons to choose

J.A. Calvert's

An example is this handsome Chippendale wing chair. Its frame is a precise copy of an antique now owned by Hickory Chair. It was made in 1764 by a member of the Townsend family, distinguished colonial cabinetmakers of Newport, Rhode Island. John Townsend took great care and pride in his superb craftsmanship. Hickory Chair takes the same care and pride in reproducing this specimen of his work for our James River Collection.

DIET FACTS & FALLACIES

ADD SOME FIBER TO YOUR LIFE!

"Fiber" has become the most debatable item in the American diet today. Interest was first sparked in 1970 with a medical report demonstrating reduced occurrence of disease in nations with diets high in fiber.

Since that time, fiber has been heralded as a "cure-all" and often abused in its use. Research does indicate that certain types of fiber can lower blood cholesterol levels, improve blood sugar processing in diabetics and aid in digestion and elimination.

Unrefined carbohydrates (fruits, vegetables, whole-grain cereals and breads) are the best sources of fiber. It is wise to choose foods such as these rather than "fiber pills" which have no known benefit.

Diet Center stresses the importance of eating foods high in fiber, especially if you are interested in losing weight and maintaining good health.

AUDI: THE ART OF ENGINEERING

THE BEST WAY TO LOOK AT A SAAB IS FROM THE INSIDE OUT.

There's not too much you can put on a sticker these days that other cars don't have.

Disc brakes, rack-and-pinion steering, front-wheel drive. Even a turbo is not so unusual in a certain caliber car.

The difference comes in the way those things work together. The way it feels to accelerate, for instance. To take a sharp curve. To stop.

Obviously, the only way to discover this difference is to take a test drive. Which explains why a Saab salesman's pitch needs little more than one sentence: "Let's go for a ride."
